Thousands of Americans will head to Washington, DC, San Francisco, and Los Angeles on Sunday, February 17, to make Forward on Climate the largest climate rally in history.

Join this historic event to make your voice heard and help the president start his second term with strong climate action.

Crippling drought. Devastating wildfires. Superstorm Sandy. Climate has come home — and the American people get it.

The first step to putting our country on the path to addressing the climate crisis is for President Obama to reject the Keystone XL tar sands pipeline. His legacy as president will rest squarely on his response, resolve, and leadership in solving the climate crisis.

WASHINGTON DC
When: February 17 »» 12:00 pm
Where: The National Mall

SAN FRANCISCO
When: February 17 »» 1:00 – 3:00 pm
Where: One Market Plaza, Embarcadero BART
Meet at 12:45, corner of Market & Main St.

LOS ANGELES
When: February 17 »» 1:00 pm
Where: Meet at Paseo de La Plaza, March to City Hall

The Robin Hood Tax can fund the transition to a non-fossil-fuel based economy. Wall Street reaps billions from oil companies, it’s time for them to pay us back — to address the effects of climate change and support a sustainable economy. Green manufacturing, clean energy and mass transit, funded by a tax on Wall Street transactions, would make the development of the Tar Sands and the Keystone XL pipeline unnecessary.