Prop. 30 begins to restore the billions in cuts that have seen California fall to 47th in funding for our schools. Prop. 30 is critical to protecting healthcare services, especially those that serve the most vulnerable. Up to $15 billion has been cut in health and social services because of budget deficits the past three years.

If Prop. 32 passes, the big hospitals and their allies will have virtually no opposition in their efforts to overturn RN staffing ratios, oversight on hospital, nursing home and insurance abuses, workplace safety rules, guaranteed meal and rest breaks, limits on forced overtime, and other protections we have long fought for.
